Es conveniente tener presente técnicas de búsqueda con operadores booleanos.

AND combina los términos de la búsqueda de modo que cada resultado contenga todos los términos. Por ejemplo: energy AND renewable recupera resultados que contengan ambos términos energy y renewable.

OR combina los términos de la búsqueda de modo que cada resultado contenga, al menos uno de ellos. Por ejemplo: college OR university encuentra resultados que contengan college ó university.

NOT excluye términos de la búsqueda, de modo que cada resultado no contenga el término que se pone después del operador NOT. Por ejemplo: television NOT cable recupera resultados para televisión pero no para cable.

Para abrir la opción de búsqueda avanzada hacer clic en el ícono abajo de la lupa.
